Boise’s proximity to sporting venues, outdoor adventure, and local culture and dining is unparalleled for a stay and play package everyone will enjoy. In addition to an unforgettable experience, Boise boasts supreme indoor and outdoor sports venues. Located just under seven miles from downtown, you’ll find 161 acres of a wide arrangement of sports fields at Simplot Sports Complex. The complex houses 20 grass soccer fields and 15 dirt Little League fields - Far West Regional Championships will bring over 220 boys and girls soccer teams to the venue in June of 2019.

For the past two years and continuing into 2019, Boise has been home to a Park Qualifier as a part of the Road to X Games series at the City’s esteemed Rhodes Skate Park. This past June, ESPN added a Harley-Davidson Hooligan race to the event, which was hosted in Boise’s CenturyLink Arena, a multipurpose arena with a seating capacity of over 5,000 for events like ice hockey, basketball, concerts, boxing, and more.

Located right off the beautiful Boise River Greenbelt, Willow Lane Athletic Complex is a 57-acre multi-use park with six dirt softball fields, a grass soccer field, playground, BMX dirt jump park and a concession stand throughout softball season.

The culturally rich downtown epicenter is a short seven-minute drive from the Boise Airport. Currently, there are 20 nonstop flight destinations in and out of the Boise Airport each day. Once you land, the walkable city’s downtown has more than 1,000 rooms and a myriad of local dining options. For adventure lovers, whitewater rapids are just 45 minutes from the city on the Payette River. Or, join the hiking and biking locals on the Ridge to Rivers footpath trails. With a heavy emphasis on local, farm-to-table options, the city center comes alive each night with more than 100 restaurants and bars within six blocks of downtown.
