Following a stringent interview process, Vanessa Breen was overwhelmingly chosen to be the new nurse manager to direct Missouri Baptist Sullivan Hospital's Medical Surgical and Critical Care units.

She has been a dedicated employee at MBSH for nearly a decade.

Breen started her career at the hospital as an Administrative Assistant in the Emergency Department in late 2011.

While she performed her work duties, she continued her education to become a Registered Nurse through the Chamberlain College of Nursing in St. Louis, which she successfully completed in 2014. She continued in the Emergency Department as a RN and took on multiple project roles.

She was MBSH's Stroke and STEMI Coordinator, implementing those programs, building the relationship with Missouri Baptist Medical Center and successfully coordinating a STEMI State Survey in 2019.

She also made an outstanding National Conference Presentation at the MBMC Heart Symposium in 2018.

In 2019, she completed the Leadership & Management Master's program through Western Governor's University.

"We are very pleased that Vanessa chose to take on the nurse manager leadership role in Med Surg and CCU," exclaimed Carmen Bartolotta, VP of Patient Care Services and Chief Nursing Officer. "With her enthusiasm and dedication, the nursing staff is in very capable hands for delivering exceptional patient care."
