MCC names associate deans

Manchester Community College has named Trent "T.J." Barber associate dean of student development and Andrew "Drew" Fraser associate dean of campus operations. Barber, a resident of Manchester, is a graduate of the University of Texas at Arlington and Central Connecticut State University, and he is a doctoral student at the University of Dayton. Fraser, a Cheshire resident, has been an associate professor in the College of Hospitality Management at Johnson & Wales University in Rhode Island. He was director of operations at the Rhode Island Convention and Entertainment Complex.